

Sight Word Boxes

If you have lots of little metal boxes (Altoid lovers sure do!), then this is a quick tip for you! I saw this in a classroom and thought it was a fun idea for a low stress way to learn sight words that the kids just eat up.

Materials: sight words, magnetic letters, metal boxes, student recording sheet

Directions:

1. Tape one sight word on top of each metal box.
2. Put the letters for the word inside the box.
3. Student looks at the word on the box and reads it out loud.
4. Student opens the box, puts the letters in order, reads it and checks against the word on the box.
5. Student writes the word on his/her recording sheet and scrambles letters for next student. Student reads recording sheet to buddy.

Name _____

Here are words I can read.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

☐ I read my list to a buddy.